the person who SA'd me is a public figure in the climate change movement and i can't say anything out of fear of retaliation. when i first spoke out in december, they sent their LAWYER to ask me to sign an NDA, which i refused.

so they filed a restraining order, saying i was "jealous of their fame" and i filed one back. it just got resolved in july. i'm beyond frustrated to see them continue to be celebrated as this "inspirational" person and live their life without any consequences.

i would never choose to sleep with them, i wasn't attracted to them in any way. in fact, when we were friends, i was trying to not be shallow and overlook their looks. it's honestly unfortunate that i was sexually assaulted by an ugly motherfucker. at least i'm still hot 🙄
