Dr. Sherry Hutt
Program Manager
National NAGPRA Program
National Park Service
1849 C Street, NW (2253)
Washington, D.C. 20240

Dear Dr. Hutt:

Thank you for meeting with Lauren Sieg and myself on April 13, 2006 regarding the collection of Native American human remains stored at the College of Dentistry at New York University. We appreciate the opportunity to review the situation with you and to discuss the efforts underway to complete the NAGPRA inventory of these remains.

To reiterate, this collection was discovered in storage. It was transferred from the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation, to the College of Dentistry in 1956. The professor who arranged the transfer, Dr. Kazamiroff, intended to study the remains and moved the remains into storage in his laboratory. After his retirement in 1973, the collection remained in storage but institutional knowledge of the collection was lost. Dr. Kazamiroff passed away in 1980.

The collection was rediscovered during building renovations. The College and University began expeditiously to pursue the proper disposition of the remains. By letter of August 5, 2003 and in a meeting later that month with members of the NAGPRA staff, we sought guidance concerning disposition of the collection. In 2005, the ledger book that identified the origins of the remains in the collection was rediscovered. The ledger has enabled the College of Dentistry to determine which remains fall under the provisions of NAGPRA.

New York University and its College of Dentistry are committed to completing the NAGPRA inventory. The College of Dentistry engaged Dr. Sieg and students at New York University to assist the College in fulfilling its NAGPRA responsibilities. The inventory process is currently underway.

As suggested by you and Dr. McKeown, NYU is submitting the following to document its compliance with NAGPRA:

- a list of remains being evaluated under NAGPRA,
- a work plan for completing the inventory, and
- a schedule for completion of the inventory.

Please note that the list of human remains subject to NAGPRA is preliminary. The documentation of the collections is ongoing. Although the list contains all the Native American human remains known to be in the collection at this time, it is possible that some remains may be added to or removed from the list as documentation of the collection proceeds. Dr. McKeown indicated that the staff of the National NAGPRA Program would review this list to determine if any of the remains fall under federal jurisdiction. We would appreciate information about any such remains within the collection.

Dr. McKeown also suggested that quickly completing a very small portion of the College of Dentistry's inventory would serve as evidence of its good faith effort to comply with NAGPRA. We are in the process of identifying a portion of the inventory that can be completed quickly for this purpose.

Finally, thank you for providing a copy of the original Heye Foundation ledger. It will be especially useful as the inventory proceeds.

Proposed Plan for Completion of NAGPRA Inventory
College of Dentistry, New York University

The following is a proposed plan for completing the NAGPRA Inventory of human remains at the College of Dentistry, New York University.

1) Research on collection history, provenance, provenience

Before letters are mailed to the tribes, the information in the ledger will be reviewed, and, to the extent possible, verified. Specific information about the sites from which remains were obtained will be gleaned from published, unpublished, and archival resource. The circumstances under which the remains were collected and then donated to the Museum of the American Indian will be investigated through archival research at the NMAI or other institutions.

2) Documentation of human remains

The human remains are currently being documented. The documentation protocol follows that recommended in "Standards for Data Collection from Human Skeletal Remains: Proceedings of a Seminar at the Field Museum of Natural History", edited by Jane E. Buikstra and Douglas H. Ubelaker. Documentation does not include casting or any destructive testing.

3) Consultation

Consultations will be organized into two groups, in order to make the volume of correspondence manageable. Four consultations are planned, requiring a minimum of eight weeks. (1) The first consultation will consist of a letter that included a preliminary list of sites, site locations, site ages, and number of individuals of potential interest to the tribe. It will solicit the tribe's opinion on the cultural affiliation of the remains. In this letter, the tribes will be invited to travel to New York to consult, view the remains, attend to religious duties and/or discuss the remains in person. (2) Two weeks after mailing the letters, the NAGPRA representative from each tribe will be called to discuss the preliminary list and answer any questions. (3) Six weeks after mailing the first letter, a second letter will be sent that informs the tribes of any changes to the information provided in the first letter, as well as recommendations for affiliation. (4) Two weeks later, the second letter will be followed by a call to answer any questions about the inventory and proposed affiliation. Although the schedule partitions consultations into defined time blocks, some may need to run longer.

4) Assessment of cultural affiliation

The assessment of cultural affiliation will begin at the time that the first consultation letters are mailed. The assessment will utilize consultation information, published literature, expert opinion and any other relevant material. The assessment will be reached at the end of each consultation. Any revisions to assessments that are required as new information is received from the tribes or new data are obtained through documentation of the remains will be completed no later than September 22.

5) Revision to inventory

At the conclusion of each consultation period, the inventory for that set of regions will be completed. The entire inventory will be compiled after consultations are completed on September 8. Once the entire inventory is compiled, it will be reviewed for errors and revised accordingly. Any additional revisions to the inventory based on new data from the documentation of the human remains will be completed by September 22.

6) Submission of inventory and Notices of Inventory Completion

Notices of Inventory Completion will be written after the entire inventory is compiled. The Notices will be organized according to affiliation. All remains that share the same affiliation will be included in one notice. Once the notices are written, they will be submitted along with the complete inventory to the National Park Service. All material will be submitted in both hard copy and electronic format by September 29.

7) Publication of notices

The National NAGPRA Program will review each Notice and may require changes before the notice can be published. Each notice will be revised and returned to the National NAGPRA Program as quickly as possible. The schedule for the publication of notices is dependent on the National NAGPRA Office and the Federal Register.

8) Repatriation

Repatriation can begin 30 days after the publication of the notice in the Federal Register, if a tribe makes a claim and no additional claimants come forward. Because the publication dates for notices are not known, it is difficult to estimate when repatriations can begin.

Proposed Schedule for Completion of NAGPRA Inventory
College of Dentistry, New York University

1) The proposed consultation schedule is as follows

Midwest, Plains, Southeast, Northwest Coast, and Alaska

May 8: Mail out initial consultation letters

May 22–25: Call tribes to answer any questions about the initial letter

June 12: Mail follow-up letter regarding the inventory and assessment of cultural affiliations

June 26–30: Call tribes to answer any questions about the inventory and assessment of cultural affiliation

Northeast, California, Southwest, and Great Basin

July 3: Mail out initial consultation letters

July 17–21: Call tribes to answer any questions about the initial letter

August 7: Mail follow-up letter regarding the inventory and assessment of cultural affiliations

August 21–25: Call tribes to answer any questions about the inventory and assessment of cultural affiliation

2) Documentation of human remains:

Estimated hours required for completion: 720*

Estimated time to completion: September 18, 2006 (8.5 months)**

* This estimate is based on the average time needed for completion of analysis of complete crania when standard calipers are being used and documentation is hand-written (7 hours). An additional hour is allotted for photography.

**This estimate is based on an average of 4 hours of analysis per day, 5 days per week. If more time can be devoted to the analysis each week, it will not take 8.5 months.

3) The proposed schedule for completing the inventory is as follows:

June 30: Draft inventory and assessment of cultural affiliation for the Midwest, Plains, Southeast Northwest Coast, and Alaska

August 25: Draft inventory and assessment of cultural affiliation Northeast, California, Southwest, and Great Basin

August 28–September 25: Revisions based on completion of documentation of remains; compile entire inventory and complete edits

September 29: Submission of final inventory of entire collection, including culturally unidentifiable Native American remains
